DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Applicant positively recites parts of the ear piece in the ear and connections thereto. While applicant may claim the device in an intended use format, such as an amplifier "adapted" to be inserted into the ear, applicant may not recite any part of the human body as part of their invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is difficult to tell which pieces of the device applicant intends to claim since, for instance, the amplifier is recited in the preamble yet there is a positive connection to it to the transmission coil in the body of the claim. For purposes of applying art, the examiner considers the entirety of the system to be claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Art Unit: 3766

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-6, 9-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Killion USPN 4,689,819 on view of von Iberg USPN 6,231,604 or Michelson USPN 3,751,605. Killion teaches a class D hearing aid amplifier for use in a hearing aid with a microphone to be inserted into the ear. While the Killion device outputs a mechanical acoustic wave sound through a matched coil, to have converted the output to a cochlea electrical stimulator using communicating coil antennas by substituting it into the amplifier members of Von Iberg or Michelson would have been obvious. Using Capacitors for demodulation filter was well known.
